Few flood problems reported despite the record rainfall

by Nancy Keraminas

Despite a record rain over a 72 hour period, fewer citizens have reported major flooding to their municipal officials.

Area park district property remains flooded, however, including sections of public golf courses such as Niles' Tam Golf Course. Portions of Chick Evans Golf Course, operated by the Forest Preserve District of Cook County, are also under water.

While golf courses and forest preserve areas are credited for absorbing much of the rainfall, both Keith Peck of Niles and Jim Dahm of Morton Grove attribute the reduction in flood problems to improvements to village storm systems as well as installation of

Candidates' forum gives appeal procedure to homeowners

Taxpayers advised to file appeals

by Nancy Keraminas

Candidates for the November elections hosted a public forum on the property tax issue, responding to the concerns of voters angry about the large increases on their latest tax bills. On Tuesday evening in Morton Grove a forum conducted by Jeff Schoenberg, Democratic nominee for the 56th Legislative District and Patrick Quinn, Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, drew around 60 attendees, including Eunice Conn, Schoenberg's Republican opponent in the general election. Morton Grove Mayor Richard Hohns who is not up for reelection was also on hand.

The speakers at the meeting, held in Morton Grove Park District's National Park fieldhouse, discussed pending tax reform measures, explained the appeal process for property tax bills and answered taxpayer questions. Conn will sponsor a similar meeting Aug. 23 at 7 p.m. at Devonshire Park, 4400 Grove St., Skokie.

Quinn, a former Cook County Board of Tax Appeals commissioner and currently the director of the Coalition for Political Honesty, urged the audience to challenge their tax bills now by filing a tax appeal before the first of the year. Quinn detailed the three components needed for tax appeal process and said owners can and do win their appeals.

"One out of two tax appeals result in a reduction in the next year's tax bill," Quinn said, saying appeals are based on property characteristics, market value and most importantly, uniformity between the appellant's property and similar homes in the same neighborhood.

Quinn also urged the audience to sign petitions to put Proposition 2, an advisory referendum calling for limitations on government spending, on the November ballot.

So far, about 200 Maine Township property owners and a lesser number of those in Niles Township have filed appeals at township assessor offices. Appeals can also be filed at the county assessor's downtown office or at the District 2 courthouse building on Old Orchard Road in Skokie where the assessor has a satellite office.

Schoenberg criticized Illinois' support for schools, targeting the state's Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DOC-CA) for its $800 million expenditures in 1989. He said the state should provide its mandated 50

by Bud Besser

If we were really serious about reducing taxes we'd get together and work out a program for such a reduction.

Since Maine Township residents' taxes included almost 50% of their total bills paid for public schools, this would be the area which should first be studied.

At the high school level, one of the three schools should be closed. When Maine North was planned, board members were expecting four high schools would provide services for 14,000 students or 3,500 per school building. There are now three schools which house 5,050 students, according to the receptionist who answered the phone at the administration office Tuesday. Her figure means if the students were divided between the three schools, 1,683.33 students would be at each building. By closing one school the average population would go up to 2,500. That figure is 1,000 students per school less than what was planned 20 years ago.

The savings in closing one school is significant. Administrative costs would be 25% less. And the closing of one building should save a substantial amount of money.

The "kicker" in such a savings is no one wants to close a school in their area. Even though many students are bussed to school, there is some

Niles library operating budget down $300,000

by Eileen Hirschfeld

Board members of the Niles Public Library District agreed to an operating budget of $2.5 million for use during this coming fiscal year, according to action taken Wednesday, Aug. 15. This budgeted figure is $300,000 less than last year.

Also, they consented to an appropriations ordinance of about $2 million more than the operating budget. While there is usually some disparity between the two, it is usually not as great.

Trustee Irene Costello told the Bugle the board applied for three grants and hopes to receive additional monies other than from traditional sources. However, monies may not be spent unless included in the appropriations ordinance.

As usual, the largest ticket item in the budget is employee salaries at a total of $1,051,300. The figure includes amounts for the administrator, professionals and para-professionals, contractual services, an accountant, maintenance

Maine Township considers tax levies

The Maine Township Board will consider proposed 1990-91 tax levies for the General Town Fund and the General Assistance Fund at its next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 28, in the Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge.

Proposed levies calling for $1,710,150 in the Town Fund and $268,220 in the General Assistance Fund were presented to the board Monday, Aug. 13. Both levies are "working proposals" and will probably be modified by the board, according to Supervisor Joan B. Hall.

However, Hall said it is almost certain that the adopted levies will be lower than last year's figures of $1,715,438 for the General Town Fund and $308,279 for the General Assistance Fund.

The levies are expected to be adopted at the Aug. 28 meeting. The public is encouraged to attend.

Fire Safety Day set for Aug. 25

When it comes to cooperation, the best example is, the combined efforts of the Glenbrook Fire District's, Niles Fire Departments, North Maine Fire Protection District's, and the Rosemont Public Safety Department's Public Education Divisions.

A fine example of this, states Chief Kinowski of the Niles Fire Department, is the upcoming Fire Safety Day to be held at the Golf Mill Shopping Center on Saturday, Aug. 25 between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Planning for this full day of Fire Safety Education has been under the leadership of firefighter, paramedic Dave Chapp of the Niles Fire Department. Serving with Dave is Lt. George Michel of the Glenbrook Fire District, Fire Marshal Wayne E. Parthun of the North Maine Fire Department and Inspector Terry Regan of the Rosemont Public Safety Department.

Headlining the full day of activities will be the, now famous, Childrens Fire Safety House. This trailer depicts a model kitchen with common hazards, a bedroom for teaching children what to do in case of a fire - which includes the selection of a second exit - and the use of simulated smoke.

The North Maine Fire Department will be constructing a mock bedroom in the mall which will be used to teach children how to properly react when the smoke alarm sounds, as well as a demonstration on how to crawl below the smoke in a room.

The Rosemont Department will have an ongoing demonstration dealing with the proper settings for hot water heaters for safety purposes and will include with their display a 1924 Arens-Fox Antique Fire Engine. As a very visual educational process the Glenbrook Department will have a static display of things that burn. This is an informative and educational display helping children and adults understand how dangerous and total fire can be.

Joining with a display and activity will be members of the Park Ridge Fire Departments Water Rescue Team. For the benefit of those attending the day's activities Park Ridge will be explaining water safety, rescue equipment, and training of rescue workers.

Among the many pieces of educational material to be handed out there will be the opportunity for children who attend to make their own Fire Safety Buttons. Several of the participating fire departments plan on having one or more pieces of their fire equipment on display during the day's events.

Correction

In the Community Focus story which appeared in The Bugle Aug. 16 about the wedding of the couple afflicted with multiple sclerosis, the official performing the ceremony was mistakenly identified. Retired Cook County Circuit Court Judge Kenneth J. Cohen officiated. The couple chose a judge to show their gratitude for the help they've received from the state in their disability.

Hohs resigns as MG park superintendent

Richard Hohs has announced he will retire from his position as superintendent of buildings and grounds at the Morton Grove Park District on Oct. 12.

The 63-year-old superintendent and mayor of Morton Grove said he prefers to look upon this move as a redirection in his life rather than as retirement. He plans to spend more time with his wife, eight children and 24 grandchildren. He will continue to be involved in village government and hopes to spend 2-3 hours a day at Village Hall.

Hohs came to the park district eight years ago from a 35-year stint as a route salesman for Deans Food Company. He started at the bottom of the ladder cutting grass and painting. Eventually he started helping out with the park budgets and was asked some three years ago to be the superintendent.

CHOLESTEROL SCREENING

Cholesterol is essential to a healthy body. There are basically two different kinds, sometimes referred to as "good" and "bad." Many people are aware that too much "bad" cholesterol may be dangerous. What people may not know is that too little "good" cholesterol can also be dangerous. Fortunately, people can incorporate changes into their lifestyles that can help raise the "good" cholesterol and lower the "bad" cholesterol.

Diet. Proper nutrition is essential. Eating foods containing monounsaturated fat (such as olive oil) and avoiding foods high in unhealthy saturated fat (such as palm or coconut oil) are two important changes.

Weight loss. Obesity contributes to low "good" cholesterol. A healthy diet and good exercise program will not only help in weight loss, but may also raise the "good" cholesterol level and reduce the risk of heart attack. Talk to a doctor about weight loss goals.

Exercise. Make exercise a regular habit. Activities such as brisk walking, running, swimming and biking are all good choices. Remember, see a doctor before beginning any exercise program.

Stop smoking. Cessation of smoking raises "good" cholesterol and is an important step in improving overall health.

Talk to a doctor and know your cholesterol level. Some patients may require medication in addition to diet, exercise, and weight loss. It's easy to make cholesterol control a habit and a doctor can help. A clinic for cholesterol screening will be held from 9 to 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 28 in the Flickinger Senior Center. All are invited.

RETIREMENT FAIRE EXTRAORDINAIRE

The North Shore Retirement Hotel at 1611 Chicago Ave. in Evanston invites seniors and others to the 5th annual Retirement Fair Extraordinaire. The faire will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 14. Features at the fair will be health screenings, supportive services, beauty make-overs, caricature artist, door prizes and refreshments. For more information call the North Shore Hotel at 864-6400.

CREATIVE GIFT-MAKING CLASS

Monday mornings are fun and festive at the Flickinger Senior Center with the weekly congregation of ladies in the Creative Gift-Making Class working feverishly and enjoying one another's company. Participants share and teach their crafts and talents with one another each Monday beginning at 10 a.m. Crafters of all skill levels are welcome.

LIONS CLUB

The Morton Grove Lions Club continues in their effort to promote vision and hearing improvements through research and community services. The Lions have a drop-box at the Flickinger Municipal Center for people who wish to contribute old and unused glasses or hearing aids. The Municipal Center is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday and 8:30 to noon on Saturday.

INTERGENERATIONAL COURSES

Oakton Community College will offer two courses on intergenerational relationships which bring together the dynamics of children and older adults. The classes begin the week of Aug. 27 and are entitled Intergenerational Play and Creative Expression at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, and Intergenerational Group Dynamics at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. For more information, call (708) 635-1461.

KEEP SMILING

The most common disease of man is dental decay. Modern dental science has made enormous advances in decreasing the incidence of dental disease through preventive techniques. Older individuals that work for children also work for adults. With aging, there is a decrease in the production of saliva, which may make eating and swallowing more difficult or may sometimes cause a burning or stinging sensation in the mouth. This can be improved by frequently taking small sips of water or other liquids, particularly while eating. An increase in the amount of liquid consumed during the day may also help to relieve dry mouth. The consumption of drinks containing caffeine should be avoided as caffeine contributes to dry mouth. The Illinois Foundation of Dentistry for the Handicapped provides a special program called Dentistry for the Homebound and can be reached locally by calling (708) 674-7755.

The Consumer Connection

By Neil F. Hartigan
Attorney General of Illinois
Q. I have been shopping around for a new car. I went to several car dealers and was bombarded with confusing information. Is there a way to know whether I am getting a good deal on a new car?

A. No. Your best approach is to know what kind of car and operations you are looking for and what you are willing to spend before you walk into a dealer's showroom.

The full-size car costs more initially than others. It costs more to operate and maintain. However, it can be more comfortable and carry six or more passengers. The intermediate-size car is slightly smaller and costs a bit less to operate, although maintenance runs about the same as for the other cars.

Consider all costs and credits before buying. This includes trade-in, lease, and rental car factors. Check all options and warranties. Warranties must tell you what is covered, who covers it and for how long, and what you must do to be satisfied if something goes wrong. Most warranties must be clearly labeled as full or limited.

Ask about options and their cost. These include fabric sealers for upholstery, undercoating and rustproofing. Options can add significantly to the cost of the car. Don't be persuaded into adding a costly option you really don't need or want.

Test drive the car. Put it through its paces. Make sure you are satisfied with its maneuverability and comfort. If you are planning on keeping the car for a few years, you want to feel comfortable in riding and handling the car.

The allotments to local municipalities are: Des Plaines, $99,144; Glenview, $59,319; and Niles, $54,363.

Lastly and perhaps most important, is to negotiate the price. Check your bank's "Blue Book" for your old car's wholesale price; use it as a benchmark when considering a trade-in. Don't sign any final papers until you make sure the car is what you want. The dealer must sign to signify that all pre-delivery services have been made. Have all warranties dated and signed.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Besser:

I am extremely concerned about the irresponsible and untrue allegations regarding the Village of Niles property taxes which you discussed in The Left Hand column on Thursday, August 16, 1990.

You reviewed one individual's tax bill and concluded that the Village of Niles increased its property taxes for 1989. This is not true! Quite frankly, the Village of Niles has led by example in holding the line on property taxes.

The Village of Niles has been extremely concerned about the ever-increasing burden placed on our residents by various taxing jurisdictions. The Mayor and Board have made concerted efforts to encourage these groups to exercise restraint in developing their budgets each year. We have personally appeared and spoken out against increased spending proposals.

What you have failed to recognize is that the dollar amount of $1,975,000 levied by the Village, is proportioned among the residents based on the assessed valuation of their property. The Village of Niles does not control, nor has it any say, in the determination of assessed value.

The Village of Niles has levied and collected the same dollar amount ($1,975,000) for property taxes each year for the past three years.

Some assessments went down, other went up. Some residents paid less in taxes and other paid more. The Village collected only the $1,975,000, from property taxes, the same amount it has collected for the past three years.

You have grossly misinformed the general public! I believe the Village deserves an apology and residents of Niles are due a retraction from the Bugle and a correct explanation of the facts involving Village of Niles property taxes.

Very truly yours,
Abel Selman
Niles Village Manager

EDITORS' NOTE:

Abel is correct. There was no overall village tax increase of 1989.

We cited one Niles taxpayers' bill which showed a $10.48 village tax increase. Other taxpayers' bills had a decrease in their village tax which compensated for others' increases.

Abel's opening sentence of "irresponsible and untrue allegations" is a bit strong. We spent a great deal of time reviewing and tabulating 12 taxing districts which were included in this year's taxbills. Subsequently, we reviewed several other taxbills and found them to have similar increases. The bigger picture of increased taxes was true and accurate.

There has always been a marked disparity of lower Niles Township taxbills and higher Maine Township bills. Since about 70% of Niles residents live in Maine Township, and mostly in single family dwellings, we thought the taxbill we cited was more representative of most Nilesites' taxbills than of a bill which represented a smaller group in the community.

Abel told us his Maine Township condo unit's local taxes decreased. Most Nilesites don't live in condos or apartments and most Nilesites had increases in their taxbills.

Pullen attacks Mucci's campaign strategy

Dear Editor:

I've watched with interest all spring and summer the confusion seemingly bothering the Democrats' official nominee for State Representative in our 55th District as he frets over the court battle and recount following the Republican Primary.

Mr. Mucci and his patron, Maine Township Committeeman Nick Blase, have repeatedly commented that he can't get his own campaign started until he knows whom he's running against.

I suggest to the voters what Mr. Mucci and Mr. Blase are really saying is that Mr. Mucci does not yet know who he himself is. Otherwise, he could easily by now have told the voters about his qualifications and his plans. If he wants to represent this district, he should have some idea of how his own attributes reflect our district (if any of them do) without having to wait to decide what kind of attack to mount.

One of the attitudes of our voters that Mr. Mucci certainly fails to understand is that they are sick of campaigns that do nothing but attack. They are looking for the positive side of their candidates. They want to know who cares about them and their aspirations for their families.

You don't have to know who your opponent is, Bob, to know the people of our district - or to know yourself.

Sincerely,
Penny Pullen
State Representative

A young Niles woman contacted police after reportedly seeing a chubby-faced stranger in her foyer, shortly after midnight Aug. 16.

The woman was asleep on the couch when she woke up to find her front door open and a strange man in his early to mid-20's standing in the illuminated doorway. She told Niles police the man fled after she shouted at him and escaped into a waiting, dark-colored panel van driven by someone else.

The complainant told police she had seen a similar van parked in the 8400 block of Chester Street previously.

Diaper thief charged

A man described as a drug user with weapons offenses was charged with shoplifting from the Omni Store at 7801 Waukegan Rd. Aug. 16.

According to reports, the 24-year-old Chicagoan attempted to leave the store with two cases of disposable diapers, valued at $42.33, until he was apprehended. Niles police later determined there was an outstanding Cook County Sheriff's Police warrant for the same offender.

He will appear in court Sept. 17 to face the retail theft charges.

A 63-year-old Niles motel clerk is pressing battery charges against a 28-year-old Chicago man in connection with an Aug. 13 incident.

According to reports, the man, who was a guest in the motel, asked her to come to his room to investigate a knocking sound at his window. She told police that as she approached his room, the guest was standing in the doorway with a crazed look in his eyes and said to her, "Come over here."

The clerk started to run back to the motel office and the guest pursued her and shoved her with his hands. She then ran across Milwaukee Avenue to the Niles police station to report the incident.

Upon his arrest, the guest told police he was "paranoid" after consuming 16 grams of cocaine. A search of his room did not reveal any of the drug. He will appear in court Sept. 7.

Probation violator arrested

During a routine traffic stop Aug. 19, Niles police discovered that the driver, a 20-year old Des Plaines man, was wanted by the Cook County Sheriff's Police for violating the terms of his probation.

The arrestee had been stopped at Golf and Dee Roads around 1:30 p.m. and was following the officer back to the police station to be processed. When the officer tried to verify the driver's insurance, he found the driver used another name. When the second name was run through the computer for outstanding warrants, the violation was discovered.

The driver was taken to Cook County Jail by sheriff's police since he did not have the requisite bond money.

The dog's owner, a 27-year-old Niles man, was cited under a village ordinance governing unleashed dogs and will appear in court in September.

Motel guest arrested on battery charges

A 63-year-old Niles motel clerk is pressing battery charges against a 28-year-old Chicago man in connection with an Aug. 13 incident.

According to reports, the man, who was a guest in the motel, asked her to come to his room to investigate a knocking sound at his window. She told police that as she approached his room, the guest was standing in the doorway with a crazed look in his eyes and said to her, "Come over here."

The clerk started to run back to the motel office and the guest pursued her and shoved her with his hands. She then ran across Milwaukee Avenue to the Niles police station to report the incident.

Upon his arrest, the guest told police he was "paranoid" after consuming 16 grams of cocaine. A search of his room did not reveal any of the drug. He will appear in court Sept. 7.

Injuries

A press operator in the factory in the 6400 block of Oakton Street, Morton Grove, accidentally caught her hand in her machine as it compressed, the morning of Aug. 14. The injured operator, a Chicago woman, 45, was treated by paramedics, then taken to Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

The night of Aug. 15, a fork lift truck ran over the foot of a worker in a factory in the 9600 block of Waukegan Road, Morton Grove. The victim had stepped behind a pillar to let the truck pass, then stepped out, but was not seen in time by the lift driver. Paramedics took the injured man, 27, of Des Plaines, to Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

In-laws charge each other with battery

Two brothers-in-law filed battery charges against each other following an Aug. 18 incident outside a Niles home in the 8400 block of Oscola Avenue. The men are to appear in court Sept. 6.

The men were at a family party where their wives, who are sisters, began arguing about the well-being of their parents, according to police. The husbands entered into the discussion which culminated in a pushing and punching match.

One coupe, from Verona, Illinois, left the party and went to a convenience store on Oakton Street where they phoned police. The 52 year old spouse repeatedly declined medical attention for his bleeding nose and was described in reports as being "extremely intoxicated."

Police went to the Oscola Avenue address with the Verona couple and attempted to settle the dispute amicably. Both men decided to press charges for battery. The other husband is a 41 year old Des Plaines man.

Butcher knife held after family quarrel

Niles police confiscated a 12-inch, stainless steel butcher knife that a Niles man had used to threaten paramedics summoned by his father to assist him Aug. 20.

According to reports, the incident occurred during the early morning in the 7300 block of Neva Avenue. The man, who was reportedly intoxicated, complained to his father of abdominal pains, whereupon the father called for medical assistance.

Recovered property

When a resident of the 9200 block of Maple Avenue, Morton Grove, investigated a plastic bag he found in his drive early Aug. 15, he found it contained the same mobile phone stolen from his father last May while he was in a restaurant in the 6200 block of Lincoln Avenue.

Stolen car

The owner of a 1986 Toyota reported the locked vehicle stolen sometime during the weekend of Aug. 18. The car, valued at $9,500, was parked at 5960 W. Touhy Ave., Niles.

Home invasion

Someone using a pry bar or similar instrument was able to enter a townhome in the 7800 block of Nordica Avenue Aug. 16 through a patio door.

The unknown burglar ransacked the master bedroom and other rooms, taking $300 cash, a $100 radio and an undetermined amount of gold jewelry. The theft occurred between 1:30 and 4 p.m.

Purse thefts

Two elderly women were victimized by purse thieves in separate incidents Aug. 16 at a Niles produce supermarket at 7901 N. Milwaukee Ave. The thefts may have occurred within 15 minutes of each other.

A Park Ridge woman reported her purse, containing $20, missing and a Chicago woman later said her wallet containing $70 was stolen. Both articles, minus the cash, were recovered from the same dumpster, located behind a Chicago grocery store at Milwaukee and Nagle Avenues.

Attempted retail theft

The afternoon of Aug. 16, when a clerk in a clothing store in the 6700 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, said "Excuse me, sir," to a man she saw putting dresses into a foil-lined shopping bag, he dropped the bag. He and a female companion, both in their thirties, and accompanied by a year old child, abruptly left the store and drove off in a red Chevrolet. The abandoned bag held nine dresses with a total value of about $539.

6-Cycle Dryer

Despite a laceration on his nose, the father allegedly was uncooperative with police and paramedics when asked to provide a history and other information relative to his son.

Battery/Retail theft

Two men, about 30 years old, entered a music store in the 6700 block of Dempster Street, Morton Grove, the morning of Aug. 14. One, who wore his hair in a pony tail, went to the rear of the store, swept up about 20 compact discs and walked back towards the front of the store where his companion held open the door. A 19-year-old store clerk, a Chicago resident, stepped in front of the man, but he pushed her, saying, "Shut up or we'll hurt you." The two men fled in an '80 Chevrolet. The compact discs were valued at $255.

Security guard's car targeted

A visiting Ohio security guard was victimized by a Golf Mill parking lot burglar who broke into his 1990 Oldsmobile Calais and stole a briefcase inside the car Aug. 14.

The victim told police his loss was approximately $840, including two rings, a badge, and airline tickets.

Bike stolen

A 14-year-old student reported the theft of a 24-inch bike from a driveway in the 8200 block of Olesander Street, Niles, Aug. 13. The bicycle was valued at $150.

Niles resident water skis barefoot

Two years ago, when Steven Bosco, 15, Niles resident and student at Maine East High School, tried out for the Twin Lakes Aquanaut Water Show Team, he could barely water ski, but loved the sport. After two years, Steven has become a champion at "barefooting."

"After many hours of strenuous practice, and falling on my face hundreds of times, I was finally able to drop off a ski and move on the water with only my 'bare feet'. The tow boat pulls me at a speed of 45 miles per hours," says Steven.

Talman reports second quarter earnings

Talman Home Federal Savings and Loan Association reported second quarter earnings of $4,670,000 before writing off costs associated with a due diligence review in connection with a terminated purchase offer. This was 28% below net income in the same quarter of 1989.

Theodore H. Roberts, chairman and chief executive officer, said net income for the latest quarter after these costs, which would have been largely capitalized had the transaction been completed, was $4,082,000, or $0.42 per share, down 10% from $4,513,000 or $0.47 per share earned in the first quarter. Net income in the latest quarter included a $2 million insurance recovery relating to a fraud loss charged off in previous periods. Net income for the first six months was $8,595,000, or $0.89 per share, down 32% from the same period a year earlier.

Roberts said the decline in second quarter core earnings was principally attributable to higher funding costs, including the effect of one calendar day more than in the first quarter, and a reduced volume of earning assets which had resulted in lower net interest income. He noted that Talman's $450 million of auction rate preferred stock had an average cost of 8.31% in the latest quarter compared to 7.18% in the first quarter. Roberts attributed this higher cost largely to the delay in obtaining regulatory approval of Talman's capital plan earlier this year which adversely affected investor pricing for these AAA-rated, collateralized securities.

Referring to earning asset volume, Roberts indicated that demand for adjustable rate loans which are preferred for portfolio has been weak in recent months as customers have increasingly opted for fixed rate mortgages now available at rates under 10%.

Back-To-School means time for immunizations

"Now is a good time to catch children who have slipped through the system, especially those entering kindergarten, because physical examinations and completed immunizations are required for school entry," she explained.

Children should begin receiving their protective vaccines at two months of age; some shots are administered as often as four times before a child reaches 5 years old.

Four types of immunizations for normal, healthy children are: diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus, commonly known as DPT; oral polio; hemophilus influenza (HIB); and measles-mumps-rubella (MMR).

DPT and oral polio are given in a "primary series" of multiple shots during a relatively short period of time, followed later by two "booster" shots, which boost the body's disease-fighting capabilities, said Dr. Lamprecht.

DPT and oral polio vaccines should be given at 2 months, 4 months and 6 months of age, although the 6-month polio vaccine is optional. A booster shot of each vaccine is required at 18 months of age and between 4 years and 6 years old, Dr. Lamprecht explained.

A diphtheria-tetanus (DT) shot should be administered again at between 14 years and 16 years of age and every 10 years thereafter, she continued.

HIB is administered only at 15 months of age.

MMR has traditionally been given at 15 months of age.

However, because of the recent measles outbreaks in the United States, the vaccine is being given at 12 months old, said Dr. Lamprecht. A second dose is required, although the medical community disagrees as to when it should be administered.

According to the Illinois Department of Public Health, children who have been vaccinated for measles at 12 months of age, but less than 15 months of age must receive a second vaccination before being admitted to school for the first time.

Beginning this fall, the Public Health Department will require that all students enrolling in the fifth grade provide documentation of two MMR vaccines, with the first being administered not earlier than 12 months of age and the second dose no less than one month later.

Vaccine side effects may include a low-grade fever, and soreness and swelling in the areas where the shot was given. Dr. Lamprecht recommends non-aspirin pain reliever and a warm compress to relieve these symptoms.

The start of a new school year is an opportune time for parents to make sure their children have received all necessary immunizations, says a Loyola University Medical Center pediatrician.

"The shots that children require become more and more complicated each year," said Catherine Lamprecht, M.D., associate professor of clinical pediatrics and director of the pediatric residency program at Loyola.

To ensure that children are properly immunized, state regulations call for students to have complete physical examinations before entering kindergarten, fifth and ninth grades and college.

A child beginning kindergarten without having received any shots, or only the initial shots of a series, will be given shots at two-month intervals until all state requirements are met, Dr. Lamprecht explained.

"The regulations also ensure that a child visits a physician, who can assess a child's growth and development. We want to check for any early signs of abnormal development," she added.

Park Ridge conductor begins 26th year

When conductor Frank York raises his baton, the orchestra he is directing produces sounds that fill an audience with emotion and delight. York is now in his 26th year of conducting The Park Ridge Fine Arts Society Symphony Orchestra.

Three thousand to 5,000 people come to see York perform with the orchestra every Friday night during the summer. The concerts are held in Hodges park, Park Ridge, at 8 p.m. and admission is always free.

A noted violinist and conductor, York is in constant demand for orchestral performances.

Liberty Bank offers Lake Geneva cruise

An authentic New England-style fish boil and cruise on Lake Geneva will be offered by Liberty Bank for Savings on Saturday, Sept. 22.

In the traditional fish boiler, as presented by the Interlaken Resort, flames shoot up from a huge black kettle in preparation of this old fisherman's treat.

Following lunch, the Liberty group will travel to nearby Lake Geneva to board "The Belle of the Lake" for the afternoon's cruise. The ship's captain will give an historical narrative of the lake and the century-old estates that line its shores.

Transportation, lunch, the cruise and full escort are all included for only $40, and just $37 for Liberty Bank's Silver Citizen Club members. For reservations, contact Susan Andrews at (312) 384-4000, ext. 565.

Kohl Children's Museum to celebrate birthday

Believe it or not, the Kohl Children's Museum is five years old this year and we're ready to celebrate. You are all invited to our Fivefest weekend long party Saturday, August 25 and Sunday, August 26. The birthday bash activities will run continuously throughout the day with several games and crafts for children of all ages.

Have you ever worn a tuxedo or a long party dress? Well, now is your chance to dress up in our "fancy schmancy" birthday dress-up clothes and make a party hat to match. Play the freeze dance game to the beat of the Jackson Five. Win prizes playing pin the hat on Waldo, clothes pins in a bottle and the five senses game where you use your senses to solve a mystery. When you are all partied out, join us on the front portico for delicious ice cream.

"For the past five years, the Museum has successfully created an environment where children and parents can explore, interact and learn using our exhibits," explains Dolores Kohl Solovy, founder of the Kohl Children's Museum. "We provide a unique hands-on approach to learning with a special focus on stimulating the imagination of children. Unique and exciting exhibits are always being created to make each visit to the museum an eye opening, fun filled experience," she added.

The Kohl Children's Museum is located at 165 Green Bay Rd., Wilmette. Hours are Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m., Sunday, noon-4 p.m. Admission is $2.50; children under one year of age are free. For more information call (708) 256-6056.

Misericordia's Family Festival fundraiser set for Sept. 9

Misericordia's 10th Annual Family Festival will be held on Sunday, Sept. 9, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. It is a fundraiser for Misericordia Heart of Mercy, a home for mentally and physically disabled children and adults.

In the past years, over 15,000 people have come to Misericordia North, 6300 North Ridge in Chicago, to enjoy a day filled with entertainment, activities, buys, bargains, raffles, and foods of all sorts.

This year, there will be American, Italian, Mexican, Greek, Polish, and Irish Booths as well as rib booth, a turkey drumstick booth, and a deli booth. For those people who may be watching their waistlines, there will be a salad bar and frozen yogurt booth. For those who aren't, there will be a candy booth and a dessert booth. There are beer, wine and pop stands throughout the grounds to accompany the food and the beer garden will be serving bratwurst again this year.

Children are able to enjoy an assortment of free games, win tokens, and purchase prizes with their winnings. The older kids can compete in the football toss and everyone can try their luck at the money games or have their picture taken as a baseball or football player.

The Main Stage will feature such groups as Mickey & the Memories, Joel Daly and the Sun-downers, Dan Mateja's Down-town Sound, and Misericordia's own Heartbreakers.

The Irish tent will have its own line up of entertainment. Tom Calkins and Bobby Ryan will be introducing such acts as Tom Moran, Sean O'Donnell and John Kivlehan, The Drivers, Mike O'Connell & the Shannaires, Terry MacEldowny, and The John Dillon Band.

Pre-sale tickets are available with discount ticket prices or tickets may be purchased at the gate. Admission is $6 for adults and $3 for children and seniors. Misericordia is offering a Corporate Sponsor package for companies or corporations wishing to sponsor a tent on the grounds.

All proceeds benefit the children and young adults with mental and physical disabilities who live and work at Misericordia South, North, and The Heart of Mercy Village. For tickets or more information, please call (312) 973-6300.

"The newspaper that delivers"

Bugle Publications Niles, Illinois

Dear Editor:

In what newspaper should I place an ad for a garage sale for June 1 & 2 was my dilemma.

Another local tabloid type newspaper was twice the price of The Bugle and the popular full size paper was more than 3 times the price but I decided on supporting the local paper that carries most of the Niles news, The Bugle.

I had fears that The Bugle's circulation was limited. To my surprise, the response was tremendous with prospective buyers from all the surrounding towns coming into my yard faster than I could sell to them.

The sale was successful, thanks to The Bugle. We sold about 90% of all the available merchandise.

Yours,
Stanley Klosowski

Sign of the times...

30's, was divorced and lived in Niles somewhere near the Waukegan/Oakton intersection. She didn't find out his last name, however.

"He asked me for a date but I chickened out. Later my sister said, 'Gee Denise, why didn't you go out with him?'
Why indeed? In some ways, Denise is a typical single woman of the 90's. "Men show an interest and I sort of bolt the other way. He seemed like a really sweet guy. Unfortunately, I blew it by not saying yes."

Denise apparently was not willing to sit back idly and regret her initial hesitancy and her failure to give Tony her phone number the night they met. She discussed her bold plan of action with her friends and would not be dissuaded when they told her she'd never meet up with Tony again. Her second stage remedy was as extreme as her first stage shy.

"When people tell me I can't do something, I go ahead and do it," Denise says, describing the leaflets she placed under auto windshield wipers, the post office box she rented so that Tony could contact her by mail and the dozens of posters, some with a poem written for him, she put on light poles all around the area. For weeks, Denise also rode her bike up and down Niles streets, hoping to spot Tony or his kids.

A few weeks ago Tony left a message on Denise's answering machine, responding to one of her posters. When Denise returned the call three days later, the number was disconnected. Now she says, "the next move is on him. I really did want to find him."

Did Tony shy away because he thought anyone who blitzed the area with leaflets and posters might be a B-movie grade crazy? If he has a case of cold feet because of her public search for him, she wants to tell him she's a pretty old-fashioned girl in many ways.

"He knows I enjoy playing with children. I was so busy with his kids, I didn't have much time to tell him about myself," Denise recalls, describing herself as an administrative employee at a Rolling Meadows real estate development firm who enjoys tennis, volleyball and bicycling as well as needlepoint, reading and videos.

She also attends religious services weekly at a Park Ridge church where she is a member and volunteers at area nursing homes twice a month. In the fall, she will be attending Oakton Community College, taking marketing courses in order to advance her career.

Despite a world of faxes, computer modems, cellular phones and other modern communication devices, two people trying to connect keep missing each other.....

Niles parks...

cently hired for the Sports Complex resigned because he lacked transportation.

The park commissioners continued to focus on personnel concerns and at the request of attorney Gabriel Berrafato, resolved to consider a voluntary employee deferred compensation plan. The plan will be explained to employees and will be available to all eligible district employees, elected officials and contractors.

Berrafato praised the plan as an incentive to employees to set aside some of their funds through a payroll deduction with certain tax benefits.

The recent rains resulted in some revenue losses for the district and Commissioner Heinen noted a rainy day amounts to $300-$500 in losses at district pools. Tam golf course has been frequently unplayable on recent rainy days. Commissioner Bud Skaja noted on Aug. 21, water was touching the putting green, and Superintendent of Parks Mike Rea sandbagged the Tam clubhouse. Perhaps reflecting the rainy season, Tam revenues for July, 1990, were $80,811, down over $5,400 from July of '89.

In connection with revenue losses, Commissioner Heinen asked the board consider the money lost when the nearly 1,000 persons attending the Fourth of July parade were invited to use the district pools free that day. She suggested not all those who took advantage of the pool offer were Niles residents.

Turning to one of the board's major projects, the Recreation Center Pool renovation, President Walter Beusse said a bid opening date might be extended to Sept. 7, a week beyond the original date of Aug. 30. He noted bid specifications could be obtained from Water Technology, Inc., P.O. Box 614, Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, 53916.

With the Sports Complex pool due to close Aug. 26 and the Recreation Center pool Sept. 3, President Beusse gained board approval to accept the highest bid in terms of profitability, for removal of the approximately 3/8 inch thick aluminum lining of the Recreation Center pool, so that pool demolition can begin. Niles Park District will realize $5,600 from the aluminum removal.

Other park district updating and maintenance continues: the Jozwiak park batting cages will be closed after Labor Day for dismantling, prior to new batting cage construction. The concession stand will stay open as long as feasible under the construction conditions, according to Commissioner Heinen. The commissioner spoke of a Chicago Tribune article praising the batting cage complex and citing its use by local businessmen and local families.

In other maintenance projects, painting the gym, lobby and fitness room is continuing at Grennan Heights and fitness equipment is being re-upholstered. Painters will be working from Aug. 20-25 in the fitness room, but users are urged to check with the office to be sure work was completed on schedule.

As the board's liaison to the Main-Niles Association for Special Recreation, (M-NASR) Commissioner Carol Panek spoke of the organization's impending open house at its new headquarters and of the M-NASR board's new policy of twice a year evaluations of its new director, Gary Koenig. She urged support of M-NASR's Sept. 8 fundraiser, the Arts in the Park concession in the regatta fest at Des Plaines Lake Opeka.

'Photocop'...

passengers and license plate. According to Niles village attorney Dick Troy, owners of vehicles photographed speeding are mailed copies of the evidence along with a citation and notification of the fine for the offense.

Outside of California, there are few communities nationwide using the controversial photo radar units which have withstood legal challenges as to their efficacy, according to Troy, who has conducted preliminary research regarding the devices.

"Some are questioning (the citation) saying, it was my car but I was not driving it," Troy says. "In these California cases, if it's your car, you are (presumed to be) driving it." The accused owner, can pay the fine or contest the ticket in court or have the admitted driver do the same.

"There's an amazingly high rate of conviction in these cases, about 90 percent," Troy relates, adding that this conviction record is comparable to that resulting from conventional radar gun units operated by a police officer.

District 70...

the resolution to the audience on Aug. 13 before members voted on it, purposely omitted reading the title authorizing the increase in the tax rate. She said it is "deplorable the board tries to sneak this past us."

Quinn said the language at the top of the document was a typographical error so the title was intentionally not read.

Quinn did state "when and if the resolution passes, the board can do what must be done to acquire Borg." However, he and Board President Daniel Miletic stressed there is a limit as to how high the board could raise taxes. Exactly how much that would be was not mentioned.

Board member Jim Meyer claims there never was a title on the resolution passed Aug. 13 and it was never distributed to the public. The board actually made a motion to amend the resolution to include a title, he said.

Ray Solal, a Mansfield Avenue resident, charged the contents of the resolution is misleading and certain facts are not brought to the attention of the public.

"Controversy divides the community. The board should stop wasting our time and money on legal opinions and get on to the business of education," he said.

In another matter, board members voted 4-2, with Olander and Cordes again dissenting, to deny a request from Adler for a copy of the legal opinion solicited by the school board and written by Mark Beem, a Chicago attorney, on the legal ramifications involved in condemning Borg.

Adler contends she is entitled under the Freedom of Informa-

Speaking on district finances, Commissioner Skaja indicated work will begin in September on the new, eight month budget for fiscal year 1991.

In other action, the board:

- announced the new fall brochure will go out before registration for fall programs begins Sept. 4;
- heard Commissioner Panek describe the progress of the district's safety committee headed by Administrative Coordinator Tracy Taylor;
- revealed the staff is starting basic ground improvement work preliminary to the installation of new playground equipment at N.L.C.O. and Grennan Heights parks;
- and heard Commissioner Heinen point to the district's inadequate amount of gym space.

United Technologies reportedly claims the portable photo radar units save communities manpower and increase revenues from fines because all cars speeding with a radar gun would have to pursue the offender in order to write a ticket, a process often involving a trip back to the police station, taking the officer away from the street.

United Technologies receives a percentage of the fines collected as a service fee in exchange for handling the initial paperwork and evidence.

If, after next Tuesday's demonstration, Niles later decides to use the photo radar devices, it would not signal an end to face contact between motorists and police personnel, however.

"The officers (of a department with the photo radar units) are still going to utilize their eyes and computers," Troy said, noting that police personnel would still issue citations for DUI and all other traffic offenses including driving with expired plates.

tion Act to see the opinion, which is paid for by public funds, and requested she be given written reasons why privileged portions of the document would be blocked out.

Miletic said allowing such information to be made public at this time could have a detrimental effect on future actions of the board.

However, he said this "does not mean the board will not make this information public in the future."

Adler said she would continue making requests to see the opinion.

The findings of a board commissioned survey conducted by Northwestern University indicate District 70 could expect an enrollment increase of 100 to 200 students over the next decade.

To accommodate the increase, three options are possible, according to board member Jim Meyer. Two options, meaning acquiring Borg and building an addition onto Park View School, are already being explored, he said.

One overlooked option, he said, would be to purchase another property in the village for a school.

A few residents seemed to think it would be hard to find such available property in the village.

One resident asked how the board could purchase Borg back when it is not up for sale.

Quinn stressed no offer had been made to the Muslim group who purchased the school last fall for $1.8 million. Board member Linda Erton said under Illinois law the board must offer to purchase Borg before condemnation velopers are considering a restaurant to occupy 10,000 sq. ft. of the 15,000 sq. ft. available at the location, leaving 5,000 sq. ft. as a separate unit. Salerno speculated, assuming the time consumed and approval at Zoning Board and Village Board of Trustee hearings, it could be the beginning of 1991 before construction could begin.

Current occupants of the plaza include Sportmart, Lee Ward's, Radio Shack, Niles Finest Cleaners, Supercuts and Ponderosa.

Hohs resigns...

Gary Balling said Hohs has been an effective liaison between the park district and the village, bridging the gap between the two. "He's a hard working guy and put in numerous hours above and beyond the call of duty," Balling said. "I will miss him."

After being involved in numerous projects from installing new roofs to playground redevelopment, Hohs regrets he will miss out on the renovation of Harter Park coming up in 1991. "It shall offer the biggest challenge of all," he wrote in his resignation letter.

He also wrote, "No doubt, I will miss the wonderful relationship of all my fellow employees, and especially the maintenance staff who were my direct responsibility."

"Thanks again! Morton Grove Park District for enriching a man's life at a time when the twilight years are around the corner," he concluded.

occurs. However, Erton said, "We need to have the referendum if we are going to have the ability to pursue that option."

She said, "We'll try to evaluate the situation. We won't go blindly ahead."

In other business, the board unanimously voted to hire Robert Karton, a Chicago attorney, as counsel for District 70 after interviewing him in a closed session. Karton will replace Faye Hartog-Rapt who resigned from the position.

Karton, who sat in on his first board meeting, said his initial impressions were there was a "difference of opinion in the community and the board is trying to do what it can to bring the community together."

He said the board needs authority to act and is, legally speaking, going about it the correct way. He said the board cannot act to purchase or acquire Borg without the passage of a referendum.

In an effort to bridge the gap between community and board factions Meyer announced the formation of a community relations committee.

The committee, which he will chair, is slated to meet once a month to discuss school board decisions and actions and bring ideas from the community to the attention of the board. Meyer wants to limit the group to 10 members. He already has four residents willing to serve on the committee and encouraged other interested residents and educators to join them.

squads. The unattended squad cars, one from Niles and two from Skokie, all had their emergency lights flashing. One of the Skokie vehicles was an unmarked car, according to Sgt. Dean Strzelecki of the Niles police.

The offender failed field sobriety tests and refused to take a breathalyzer test, resulting in automatic suspension of his license. He was charged with DUI, failure to reduce speed, driving off a roadway, damage to village property, driving without lights, driving without a front license plate, and transportation of open alcohol.

kind of silly logic "our" town should have its own school. Des Plaines has its school. Park Ridge has two schools. And to disturb the status quo would create waves of trauma into each of these communities.

The three school high school set-up is a luxury which taxpayers can no longer afford. But no one-board members, politicians or residents will take the initiative to close one school. It would save the taxpayers substantial money. And the "quality education" the wunderkind are now receiving would not be reduced one iota.

I know it's a sign of growing older to write about schools in our high school days. But Chicago schools like Hyde Park, Lane, Marshall, and Senn in the forties and fifties had populations up to 4,000 students. And they were among the best schools in the country. It is doubtful the size of enrollment in a school determines its quality. But more schools are favored by administrators and board members. It makes them look good. And in the case of administrators, additional schools look good on their resumes when they prepare to move to their next school district.

Consolidating elementary school districts would be another means for saving tax dollars. Again, administrative costs would be reduced by lessening the number of people at the top of all these districts. Certainly, Niles Township's school District 71 lives in the lap of luxury having two schools for 350 students. Since the huge industrial tax base in its area accounts for the low taxes and the extra school, it would be a benefit to all in the area if this luxury could be shared by all of Niles by consolidating all the elementary schools. But don't bet your baseball cards on such a joint effort. Voters would have to approve such a consolidation and it is unlikely Niles Township residents would vote in favor of sharing their wealth with their neighbors.

Consolidating village serices would be another boon to taxpayers. If Niles and Maine Townships consolidated all village services with one administrative head being in charge of each service, the savings would be substantial. One police chief, one fire chief, one public works head and reducing the duplication of equipment would prove a savings to all residents.

We know we're blowing smoke rings by suggesting such joint efforts. But if we want to just hold the line on taxes, some effort along these lines will have to be undertaken.

Salaries are going to continue to escalate. And protectors of school fiefdoms in particular, are not going to give an inch.

We'll have to fight each taxing body individually. It'll be a drag-out bloody affair in which they will not yield voluntarily. But if we don't take to battle, our taxes four years from now will once again zoom up and up and up.

We got a fiery letter from Martha Callero. She made reference to a May Left Hand column in which we did not identify Joe Ferraro's wife by name. We referred to her as "Mrs. Ferraro" and "Joe and his wife" and made references to "they" and "their" but never once mentioned Mrs. Ferraro by her first name.

Mrs. "Martha" Callero writes:

What is her name? All I see is "Joe's wife", "Mrs. Ferraro" - even worse "Mrs. Joseph Ferraro".

Doesn't she have a name? Was she "nobody" till she married Joe and he was nice enough to let her use both his names? What a guy.

home flood control and overhead sewer systems. Both men will also be meeting with state department of transportation (IDOT) representatives Aug. 23 to push for new storm sewers along Dempster Street.

Morton Grove's director of public works said the village's reporting station at 8820 National Ave. measured 4.63 inches of rain over the 48-hour weekend period. Nearly an inch of additional rain was recorded that Monday.

Pullen, Mulligan...

Challenger Rosemary Mulligan, a Des Plaines paralegal, was preparing for her Aug. 24 keynote speech before an Indiana conference of paralegals. Aug. 23, she will be a guest at a luncheon for Republican senatorial candidate Lynn Martin. Mulligan indicated she was surveying Des Plaines and Park Ridge real estate for a campaign headquarters.

Aug. 21, Mulligan said she decided she "can't wait any longer, (though) at first (I) didn't want to tempt fate" by further pre-election organizing. Now she is beginning to put a budget together in order to be ready when the high court decision comes down. Pullen attorney Mankivsky sees a bright side to the waiting period. He said "We feel good about everything" and cited an Aug. 17 request by the Supreme Court to see ballots that had been set aside because votes failed to register, due to a possible defect of the paper or the voting stylus. He called the action "more than what the trial court did, (but) it's hard to outguess the (Supreme Court)."

The attorney suggested the high court would not rule piecemeal on the five or six issues at stake, but rather issue "some sort of an opinion...by the end of the month...and follow with a written explanation" of their decision.

The Democratic candidate for the legislative seat, Park Ridge resident Robert Mucci, an assistant Cook County public defender, meanwhile is left without a defined opponent. In early August he declared his intention to challenge both Pullen and Mulligan at the Supreme Court did not rule soon.

Because of the Republican candidates' strongly opposing stands on abortion, the contested primary has gathered national attention.

Texas was won by the litigants and would mean "big trouble" for districts in Maine and Niles Townships.

"We need to take a proactive approach and take a hard look at out school funding or a judge will tell us how to fund our schools," Schoenberg asserted.

Conn expressed her disappointment after the forum that while the tax appeal information was helpful, specific questions were "not truly answered."

"The people did not come to hear a lot of rhetoric or speeches," Conn opined, pointing out the Schoenberg campaign posters taped to the walls for the meeting and periodic references to the speakers' candidacy in November. Conn said reductions in spending rather than shifting money between departments would get relief from the escalating costs of government.

"We've got to start cleaning house," Conn said, giving Cook County Hospital's 21-percent budget increase as an example of a place where fat could be trimmed. Conn alleged the hospital is overstaffed.

Hohs maintained a neutral stance relative to Democratic or Republican politics. The mayor pointed to Morton Grove's $400,000 abatement of last year's second installment tax bill as an example of that village's commitment to holding government costs down.

THE BUGLE, THURSDAY, AUGUST 23, 1990

"It's just so much rain," Dahm commented, saying his department received less than a half-dozen reports of flooded basements in homes without flood control or overhead sewers. On-going sewer improvements in Morton Grove, including a Capulina Street project in the south central portion of the village have or will alleviate problems throughout Morton Grove.

"We got the big rain, Director of Public Services Peck declared, "3.37 inches between Friday night and Saturday morning. Peck added that 2.3 inches of that downpour occurred within a one-hour interval.

"A lot of the things we have done have worked," Peck reported, listing removal of a paved driveway near Our Lady of Ransom Church on the western side of Niles as one of the additional factors besides sewer improvements which resulted in reduced reported flooding in that village section.

Blocks where flooding occurred in both villages include "O" streets feeding into Dempster Street. Portions of that state highway have storm sewers tying into municipal systems which get overloaded during heavy rains. Niles and Morton Grove want IDOT to install new sewers between Harlem Avenue and Milwaukee Avenue in conjunction with a road construction project to begin in 1991.

"The sewers definitely should be put in," Dahm asserted, attributing street flooding at the intersection of Dempster Street and Harlem Avenue to state water runoff. "(Dempster) is one of the most-traveled routes in the state. It's ridiculous it should have to be closed because of two inches of rain."

Even if the two villages negotiate favorably for new sewers, flooding problems further west along Dempster may still occur. Bill Frasier, Maine Township's Supt. of Highways, reported the 4.1 inches of rainfall recorded in the unincorporated area resulted in Prairie Farmers Creek overflowing again.

Runoff from Dempster Street traveled overland to the creek, causing intersection flooding at Dee Road and at Ballard Road and Greenwood Avenue, according to a township spokesperson. Far fewer homes experienced problems than in previous storms.

With some forecasters predicting additional rain this coming weekend, those planning golf outings, picnics and softball games will need raincoats for some time to come. Niles Park District maintenance workers sandbagged around Tam Golf Course's clubhouse, where Chicago River waters touched over the weekend, according to Director of Parks Tom Lippert.

"We're just hoping that the rains stop," Lippert said, saying that play at Tam will be suspended at least through the weekend until employees can repair the 7th green and other traditional troublespots.

"We're going to be playing baseball into the football season," predicted Morton Grove Park District Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds Dick Hohs, after checking out the park's soggy diamonds. Hohs noted that a scheduled Lake Avenue sewer project will tie into drainage planned as part of a major renovation to Harter Park.

Both Hohs and Dahm expressed gratitude for Morton Grove's proximity to Chick Evans Golf Course. "Thank God for the forest preserve and golf course," Dahm said. Hohs also made the observation that mop-up measures throughout the area were not impeded as in previous years by widespread power outages caused by storms.

Library budget...

Niles/East Maine Park 1 gas station, the library discovered unremoved gas tanks. To avoid contamination and remediate the area, the district expended $24,000, of which the oil company agreed to repay $18,000.

Also, board members formally accepted the resignation of former trustee Richard Weaver who resigned in May prior to his leaving the district.

In other action, board members voted to abolish all standing committees and create new ones.

They will be finance, to monitor all financial aspects of the library; personnel and policy, to handle all personnel and policy matters; administrative review, to each year evaluate the administrator; public and governmental relations, to work with the public and governmental units and building and grounds, to establish a five-year plan and make recommendations for capital projects. Chairmen will be finance, Robert Quattrocchi; personnel, Irene Costello; administrative review, Frank Allocco; public and governmental relations, David Laske and building and grounds, Ted Przybylo.

Referring to the fingerprinting between the assessor and the 16 government units listed on a Morton Grove homeowner's bill, with each denying the blame for tax increases, Hohs agreed with Schoenberg and Quinn that the archaic assessment formula should be simplified.

"This thing has got to stop...they make it confusing to understand tax bills," Hohs observed.
