NEWS BRIEFS

METROPOLITAN TRANSPORTATION IS TOPIC OF NOVEMBER 5 SYMPOSIUM --
Extended Services is sponsoring a public forum on metropolitan transportation on Thursday (Nov. 5) at the Metropolitan Center, 50 West Main St. Short talks will be given by eight experts, and a panel discussion will follow. Among the participants are Robert Black, chairman of the Rochester-Genesee Regional Transportation Authority; Rochester City Manager Julian Orr; Ann Taylor, director of the city's Bureau of Planning; and Stuart Denslow, executive director of the Genesee-Finger Lakes Regional Planning Board.

The moderator will be Fred Goldstein, RIT assistant professor (College of Science) and chairman of an independent sub-committee on metropolitan ecology.

The fee for the program is $5. Information may be obtained from Robert Maurice, Extended Services Division, 464-2224.

* * * * *

PAPERO NAMED TO ABC BOARD OF DIRECTORS -- James Papero, assistant director of RIT's Extended Services Division, has been appointed to the board of directors of Action for a Better Community (ABC), as a representative of the Institute. ABC, a federally-funded office, was established to administer a wide variety of funded community action programs. It is a local extension of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

* * * * *

HILTON NAMED PRESIDENT OF CONSUMER COUNCIL OF MONROE COUNTY --
Ronald J. Hilton, academic administrator of RIT's Metropolitan Center, has been elected president of the Consumer Council of Monroe County. Hilton, who was assistant to Dean Robert Pease of the College of Continuing Education before taking the 50 West Main St. position, listed three areas of concern for the council: prescription drug prices, credit abuses, and environmental pollution. He also hopes to broaden the membership of the council to cover more segments of the community.

Dr. Derrald Livingston, director of the Business Division of the College of Continuing Education, was elected treasurer of the council.

* * * * *

DR. DONALD D. JOHNSON NAMED DIRECTOR OF NTID COMMUNICATIONS CENTER --
Dr. Donald D. Johnson has been named director of the Communications Center at NTID, according to an announcement by NTID Dean William E. Castle.

Dr. Johnson will be responsible for coordinating speech pathology, audiology and interpretive services for NTID.

Prior to joining NTID, Johnson was employed by Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., as a research associate, assistant professor of audiology, teacher of graduate courses and supervising audiologist. He also has served as an audiologist in the Children's Hospital, Utica, N.Y.

Johnson earned a B.S. degree from the University of Illinois, an M.A. degree from Northwestern University and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois.

He served in the U.S. Air Force from 1951 to 1955 and is a member of the American Speech and Hearing Association and the Academy of Aural Rehabilitation.

He has collaborated with Dr. Robert Frisina, RIT vice president and director of NTID, in the writing of an article, "Nonverbal Test of Hearing for Children," (1966); and has written a journal article with Dr. Nicholas Torok, of the University of Illinois Medical School, titled "Habituation of Nystagmus Response" (1969).

WIL COITTES UNICH ROVED GINEM YICK DEARICH LREZIME

RIT COLLEGE UNION BOARD CINEMA ARTS DIVISION PRESENTS

Monday, Nov. 2

The Talisman Film Festival presents DEAR JOHN at 7:30 and 10 p.m. in the College of General Studies Auditorium, admission $.50.

DEAR JOHN (black and white, 115 min., English sub-titled): A dramatic love story about a young sea captain on a weekend shore leave.

Friday, Nov. 6

The Talisman Film Festival presents THE INTERVIEW and DRACULA at 7:30 and 10 p.m. in the Booth Auditorium of the Frank E. Gannett Memorial bldg., admission $.50.

THE INTERVIEW (color, 5 min.): A satirical interview between a "square" announcer and a "hip" horn player. The announcer is utterly confused by the jazz-man's terminology and the latter is utterly discouraged by the announcer's ignorance.

DRACULA (black and white, 75 min.): A genuine gothic horror film created by Tod Browning, who directed most of the famous Lon Chaney masterpieces, and featuring an historical performance by the arch-fiend, Bela Lugosi.

Saturday, Nov. 7

The Talisman Film Festival presents DOTS and THE LION IN WINTER at 7:30 and 10 p.m. in the Booth Auditorium of the Frank E. Gannett Memorial bldg., admission $1.00.

DOTS (color, 2 min.): An experimental film, in which sound and visual were created entirely by the artist drawing directly upon the film with ordinary pen and ink. The main title is in eight languages.

THE LION IN WINTER (color): Peter O'Toole is once again Henry II, King of England; Katherine Hepburn--as Eleanor of Aquitaine, his wife and Timothy Dalton as their son, Philip Augustus.

Sunday, Nov. 8

The Humanitarian Film Festival presents THE UNANSWERED QUESTION and EXODUS at 7:30 p.m. (only) in the Booth Auditorium of the Frank E. Gannett Memorial bldg., admission $1.00.

THE UNANSWERED QUESTION (5 min.): "What is Brotherhood?" -- A question people in all walks of life are either unable to or refuse to answer -- is the question posed in this brief but telling film. For an interview-style TV spot on Brotherhood prepared for the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Amran Nowak Associates questioned people on the street. THE UNANSWERED QUESTION was put together from the out-takes of those interviews.

EXODUS (color, 207 min.): Few dramas, in passion and power, can equal that surrounding the struggle for rebirth -- of a people, and a nation. Memorably re-created are the turbulent months in 1947 when the Israeli underground was fighting on two fronts -- battling British and Arabs alike in their desperate struggle for life and independence for a chance to bring the age-old Jewish nation back to life again in the Holy Land.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM FINISHED SECOND IN ICAC CHAMPIONSHIPS --

RIT made its formal bow in Independent College Athletic Conference competition last Saturday (Oct. 24), with a second-place finish in the conference cross country championships at Troy, N.Y. Host RPI was first with 34; RIT had 44; and the rest of the field was far behind. The first RIT runner to cross the finish line was Tom Doehler, who came in fourth, 36 seconds behind the winner. Other RIT point-scorers were Dave Kosowski (5), Bob VanNiel (9), Bob Backofen (12), and Ron Pollock (14).

Doehler, who has led the RIT cross-country efforts this season, while standout Dave Kosowski's injured knee slowly strengthens, has been the top RIT finisher in every race thus far and has been the overall winner against eight of 11 opponents. Doehler, who transferred to RIT from Monroe Community College this year, made St. Bonaventure his eighth victim last week at Olean and did so in the record-breaking time of 22 minutes flat.

For his efforts, Doehler has been named Athlete of the Week by the RIT Athletic Committee.
