SSS50 Senaptec Sensory Station

The Senaptec Sensory Station is the most complete sensory evaluation and training product designed to assess visual and sensory skills of human performance. Ten skills are evaluated on high definition and touch screen monitors using science-based methods. Results are immediately provided as a comparison to our database by competition level, sport, and position. The Senaptec algorithm identifies strengths and provides a plan for the areas for improvement.

The Senaptec Sensory Station is based on the ground-breaking technology developed by Nike over the last decade. Feedback from eye care professionals, performance coaches, and military members from around the globe have been integrated to make this new generation more capable, portable, and affordable.
