Der „gepanzerter“ Führer

Hitler traut seinen Generalen nicht. Bald setzt er sie hauerweise ab, bald sterben sie plötzlich am „Herzschlag“ oder infolge eines „Autounfalls“. An Stelle der alten bewährten Generale läßt Hitler in der Wehrmacht Himmler-Burschen sich breitmachen. Sie verstehen soviel von der Kriegskunst wie der Esel vom Flötenblasen. Dafür aber verstehen sie, die Leute in den Tod zu jagen und ihre eigene Haut zu retten.

Das Ergebnis ist: Neue Niederlagen der deutschen Armee. Neue Berge von Leichen deutscher Soldaten.

Hitler traut seinen Offizieren nicht. Sie werden von den Spitzeln Himmlers, den NSFO, überwacht. Diese Nazi-Offiziere helfen Hitler, die Soldaten in den Tod zu jagen, sie selber aber retten sich.

Das Ergebnis ist: Neue Niederlagen der deutschen Armee. Neue Berge von Leichen deutscher Soldaten.

Hitler traut jetzt auch der Wehrmacht nicht mehr. Unter der Polizeiaufsicht des Henkers Himmler schul er den „Volkssturm“. Nicht genug damit, daß er Millionen deutscher Soldaten zugrunde gerichtet hat, jetzt treibt er sechzehnjährige Knaben, sechsigjährige Greise und sogar Frauen und Mädchen in den Tod.

Das ganze deutsche Volk wird von der Naziclique der Vernichtung preisgegeben.

DEUTSCHE SOLDATEN! Für Euch gibt es nur einen einzigen Ausweg — mit der Hitler-Himmler-Bande zu brechen und den verlorenen Krieg zu beenden.
 Nur so rettet Ihr Euch selber und Euer Land.

3189 - 2.11.1944.

Soldaten!
 Der allgemeine Sturm auf das belagerte Deutschland hat begonnen!

Die Armeen der Verbündeten stürzen vom Osten und Westen gegen das Herz Deutschlands vor; schon sind die wichtigsten Hartener der Deutschen an der Ober und am Rhein gefallen. Die wichtigsten deutschen Wirtschaftszentren sind von der Luft zerstört.

Die deutsche Armee ist dem Untergang geweiht.
 Ihr Schicksal hängt von einer belagerten Garnison in einer gewaltigen halberwiesenen Stadt, diese Tage zählt sie sich. Soldaten, ihr letzter Weg zur Rettung...

ORGANISIERTER KAPITULATION!
 In allen deutschen Städten, die von der Roten Armee eingeschlossen und dem gefürchtet wurden, war das Schicksal der deutschen Garnison immer das gleiche. Die deutschen Soldaten und Offiziere, die dem nächsten Widerstand fortsetzen, gegen zugrunde zu gehen, die organisiert kapitulieren und sich gelangen, können am Leben.

Einige Beispiele:

In STEINAU
 wurde die deutsche Garnison Anfang Februar von den Russen eingeschlossen. 2000 deutsche Soldaten und Offiziere hatten den Widerstand fast zwei Wochen lang organisiert, gaben sich gefangen und wurden dadurch gerettet.

In BRIEG
 waren über 8000 deutsche Soldaten und Offiziere eingeschlossen. 5000 gingen beim nächsten Widerstand zugrunde. 4000 deutsche Soldaten und Offiziere jedoch kapitulierten und lebten am Leben. Ihre Rettung haben sie dem edelsten Verhalten des Hauptmanns Petruschke zu verdanken. Dieser deutsche Offizier nahm das sowjetische Ultimatum an, ließ die Soldaten in Marschkolonnen antreten und führte sie zu den Russen hinüber, bevor die Offiziere sahen sie in Trübsand und haben sie dann im Hinterland bringen.

In POSEN
 bildete die eingeschlossene deutsche Garnison auf Befehl des OKW Widerstand. Das Ergebnis war, daß 25.000 Deutsche russisch zugrunde gingen. 25.000 Deutsche

WOZU DAS ALLES?

Die Nazis sagen Euch, ihr verteidigt Deutschland. Das ist eine Lüge! Es ist schon zu spät, Deutschland zu verteidigen.

IM OSTEN haben die Russen Ostpreußen und Pommern, Ober- und Niederschlesien besetzt, das letzte Weichselniederland, die Oder, überquert und stoßen gegen Berlin vor.

IM WESTEN haben die Verbündeten die „Siegesteile“ durchbrochen, den Rhein erreicht und an mehreren Stellen überschritten und stoßen ebenfalls gegen Berlin vor.

Jeder vernünftige Deutsche muß heute schauen, daß die Fortsetzung des verheerenden Krieges die Vernichtung neuer Millionen deutscher Menschenleben und die totale Verwüstung des Landes bedeutet.

Die Nazis sagen Euch, die Verbündeten hätten die Absicht, das deutsche Volk auszuroffen. Auch das ist eine Lüge!

Solche nutzlosen Ziele haben wir nie gehabt.

Die Wehrmacht geht nach Deutschland nicht mit dem Ziel eines Heiligtums und Klühens, mit dem Hitler und seine Nazis im Jahr 1941 in Sowjetland eingetrochen sind.

Die Wehrmacht geht nach Deutschland, um die Kriegsverbrecher, die Hitler sie zu Macht zu verhelfen und strengere Bestrafung zuzuführen, um die Nationen zu vernichten, die Millionen von Menschen aller europäischen Länder, darunter auch dem deutschen Volk, unangenehm sind gebracht hat.

Die Nazis sagen Euch, ihr verteidigt eure Zukunft. Auch das ist eine Lüge!

Wenn ihr den Kampf fortsetzt, werdet ihr Euch selber sinnlos und zum sinnlosen Untergang.

Die Fortsetzung des verheerenden Krieges führt nur zur totalen Verödung der deutschen Städte und Dörfer, legt Euch und Euren Familien neue sinnlose Opfer auf und verschlechtert die Lage Deutschlands und des ganzen deutschen Volkes.

Photomontages, the Soviet Art-Leaflet-Magazine.

The leaflet magazine “Front-Illustrierte” is one of the most remarkable aerial propaganda series ever disseminated. Its content, layout and way of operation never changed in almost four years of its production. The idea of this leaflet magazine was to wage psychological warfare by adhering to the dictum:

“Photographs don’t lie! and Pictures speak” and try to get the Germans to accept that “Goebbels and Hitler do lie”.

In “Front-Illustrierte” this concept was rarely complemented by using text but by adding photomontages extensively and caricatures. By themselves photomontages are not forgeries of pictures, the reader can see what was done, but are rather an overaccentuation of “reality”.

The effectiveness of “Front-Illustrierte” and its cut-and-paste montages is not easy to determine. An indication of effectiveness during time of dissemination was the German countermeasures taken against photomontages, see order #S1-2497, Kirchner: volume 13, page 200 and 217).

Many years ago Klaus Kirchner met in Moscow the man who had created most of the photomontages in “Front-Illustrierte”, Alexander Shitomirskij. His report “Krieg ohne Gewalt” [War Without Violence], see Kirchner: volume 13, pages 427 to 438, is an insight into the ideas, motives and aspirations that inspired the gifted artist in his work on this extraordinary leaflet series:

“In July 1941 I was working in Moscow and my job was to do the illustrated magazine that was a weekly supplement for Pravda [The Truth]. The war was four weeks old and I was doing my work as usual when I was summoned, one day at six o’clock in the morning, by the director of Political Propaganda (Politische Hauptverwaltung). I was ordered to produce a draft for a magazine under the name “Front-Illustrierte”. I was given 14 photographs of war scenes, the title mentioned and just 40 minutes to prepare a mock-up. The draft was accepted and shown to Stalin who approved it, and the “Front-Illustrierte” was produced and disseminated until the end of World War II. Due to Stalin’s order and the success of the leaflet art magazine my ideas on the layout and title remained unchanged.”

Shitomirskij gives also a vivid insight into the secrecy surrounding the preparation of the photomontages, and the production process used by the Soviet government. When setting up the scenes in the photomontages and drawings he sometimes posed as a German soldier himself.

DER BLUTRÜNSTIGE HITLER IST DER SCHULDIGE AM UNGLÜCK DES DEUTSCHEN VOLKES

Im ersten Monat des sinnlosen Krieges gegen Sowjetrußland übertreffen DIE DEUTSCHEN VERLUSTE 1 500 000 MANN

The first issue of “Front-Illustrierte”, part illustrated above, demonstrates perfectly the method of the intended persuasion. The photomontage is composed of at least three wrecked German airplanes, the caption reads: “more than 3 000 airplanes lost”. Also equally exaggerated out of proportion is the statement: “one and a half million German losses in one month”, the Wehrmacht had attacked the Soviet-Union using less than 3 Million soldiers. Nevertheless, the format, the quality printing in colour on good paper, and the layout of illustrations made the leaflet magazine most attractive to look at, but it turned out to be hardly convincing to German soldiers at that time.

Note: Of the almost one hundred different issues of “Front-Illustrierte” quite a few are available, some, at moderate prices, are offered below, please ask for others. “Front-Illustrierte” can be studied completely, see Kirchner: volume 13, page 337 in this Sales List.

1941 – 1945 USSR → Germans, Army Group Leaflets

Notes: The Soviet Government started to produce and disseminate aerial propaganda leaflets for Germans on June 22, 1941, the day the German Wehrmacht invaded Russia. The leaflets campaign of the “Soviet Central Series” continued to the very last day of World War II, 8 May 1945. The Soviet government produced three different leaflet series:

- “Soviet Central Series”, 1941 to 1945, leaflets see above;
- “Army Group” (army group is in Russian a front), 1941 to 1945, leaflets see below;
- “Nationalkomitee ‘Freies Deutschland’“ (NKFD), [National Committee “Free Germany”], 1943 to 1945, see Kirchner: volume 15 page 338.

Of the “Soviet Central Series” about 2,000 different leaflets in various languages in mostly 500,000 editions were produced. In contrast “Army Group” (see below) leaflets were printed in editions of a few hundred or thousand but in 30,000 to 40,000 different types.

1943 – 1945 USSR → Germans (Instructions, Loudspeaker)

Notes: The Soviet Government disseminated not only aerial propaganda leaflets for Germans but also loudspeakers were used to address front line soldiers. Loudspeakers have the advantage of the spoken word which reaches the addressees and their mind without documenting the arguments used i.e. “black” outrageous lies and distortions can be spread. On the other hand it is easy to attribute falsely the enemy had made by loudspeakers various statements. For example different German soldiers remembered having heard messages by Soviet loudspeakers: “Come over to us we will treat and feed you well and big breasted Russian women will take care of you...” Printed instructions of what to say and how to speak were supplied, some have survived and are offered here.

ПРОГРАММА ЗВУКОПЕРЕДАЧИ ЧЕРЕЗ МГУ и ОГУ
 (Для немецких войск)

Thema:

Wie leben die Deutschen in den von der Roten Armee besetzten Gebieten!
 (Как живут немцы в районах, занятых Красной Армией?)

Achtung! Achtung! Offiziere und Soldaten! Euch alle interessiert aufs lebhafteste die Frage:
Wie leben die Deutschen in den von der Roten Armee besetzten Gebieten!

Die Hitlerpropaganda täuscht Euch die wüsten Geschichten über das Verhalten der russischen Truppen in den deutschen Städten und Dörfern auf. Der Zweck der Verleumdung der Roten Armee ist klar; die Hitlerleute wollen die deutschen Soldaten anpeitschen, den sinnlosen Widerstand fortzusetzen.

Was geschieht in Wirklichkeit in den Städten und Dörfern, die von den Sowjettruppen besetzt sind?
 Hört die Berichte von Augenzeugen, von Euren Landsleuten. Sie geben Euch auf diese Frage Antwort. Die Einwohner der Stadt Landsberg an der Warthe schreiben in einem offenen Brief an die deutschen Soldaten:

„Für uns ist der Krieg beendet. Unser Leben ist in Sicherheit. Der russische Militärkommandant gewährleistet die Ordnung in der Stadt. Unser Leben verläuft normal. In unserer Stadt ist die zivile Verwaltung schon gebildet. Unter der Leitung des Bürgermeisters arbeiten fünf Abteilungen: die Versorgungsabteilung (Lebensmittel), die Abteilung zur Entgegennahme von Beschwerden der zivilen Bevölkerung, die Abteilung Sanitätswesen, ferner die Abteilung Hilfe für Obdachlose, zurückgekehrte Flüchtlinge, Kinder und Invaliden sowie die Abteilung für Industrie und Handel. Das Städtische Kraftwerk und Wasserwerk funktionieren störungsfrei. Zwei Krankenhäuser und neun zurückgebliebene Ärzte arbeiten für die zivile Bevölkerung. 14 Bäckereien versorgen die Zivilbevölkerung mit Brot. Jeder Arbeiter bekommt 400 Gramm Brot pro Tag, die nicht arbeitende Bevölkerung erhält 200 Gramm Brot pro Tag. Die Kirchen stehen wie zuvor. Gottesdienste können abgehalten werden.“

Achtung! Achtung! Wir brachten Auszüge aus dem Brief der Einwohner von Landsberg an der Warthe an die deutschen Soldaten. Den Brief unterzeichneten: der Bürgermeister der Stadt, Paul Schulz; der 1. Stellvertreter Max Seldel; der 2. Stellvertreter Otto Rückheim; die Bezirksältesten Karl Rabe und Georg Klentz; der Leiter des Städtischen Gesundheitswesens, Doktor Johannes Friedländer; der leitende Arzt des Krankenhauses, Doktor Alois Heinemann; die Straßenältesten Lenz, May, Kartte und andere.

Ihr hört jetzt Auszüge aus einigen Privatbriefen, die wir mit Einverständnis der Absender veröffentlichen. Das Oberkommando der Roten Armee hat den Briefverkehr zwischen den russischen Kriegsgefangenenlagern und den unter russischer Militärverwaltung stehenden deutschen Gebieten gestattet.

Frau Minna Helmschrott aus Schneidemühl, Adolf-Hitler-Straße 8, schreibt ihrem Mann, dem Gefreiten Alois Helmschrott im Kriegsgefangenenlager 212, Kreis Allenstein in Ostpreußen:

„Lieber Alois! Ich bin jetzt mit den Kindern nach Schneidemühl zurückgekehrt. Unser Haus ist ausgebrannt, aber vieles ist gerettet. Ich wohne jetzt bei Frau Lembke. Hier wird schon wieder fest gearbeitet, hauptsächlich zur Wiederinstandsetzung. Die Russen lassen uns gewähren, sie fordern es sogar von uns. Hier läuft viel herrenloses Vieh herum. Ich habe davon eine Kuh und ein Schwein zugeteilt bekommen, so daß wir nicht zu hungern brauchen.“

Der Tischler Kurt Vogt aus Öls schreibt seinem Sohn ins Kriegsgefangenenlager 71 in der Nähe von Warschau:

„Mach Dir um mich keine Sorge. Den Volksturm und den ganzen Kriegsdreck bin ich los. Hier wird immer mehr Ordnung. Die Männer sind beim Straßen- und Brückenbau. Die Frauen räumen in der Stadt auf. Ich bin von diesen Arbeiten befreit, weil ich über 50 bin. Das wird hierbei berücksichtigt. Verdienst habe ich genug, weil es nur so an Aufträgen prasselt.“

DEUTSCHE SOLDATEN! Ihr habt die schlichten, ungeschminkten Berichte Eurer Landsleute gehört. Ihr seht, die Rote Armee kämpft nicht gegen die friedliche Zivilbevölkerung. Die Rote Armee kämpft nur gegen diejenigen, die Widerstand leisten.

Die von den Russen besetzten Gebiete Deutschlands sind Hinterland der Roten Armee. Die Rote Armee ist an einem ruhigen Hinterland interessiert. Deshalb tun die Sowjetbehörden alles, damit überall Ruhe und Ordnung herrschen und die Arbeit normal verläuft.

Soldaten! Glaubt nicht den Lügenmärchen der Hitlerpropaganda. Laßt Euch gesagt sein: es liegt in Euerem ureigensten Interesse, schnellstens mit dem sinnlosen Widerstand Schluß zu machen und dadurch Euer Land vor weiteren Zerstörungen und Opfern zu schützen.

Macht Schluß mit dem verlorenen Krieg!
 Verlaßt die Front! Gebt Euch der Roten Armee gefangen!

1943 – 1945 USSR → Germans, NKFD-Leaflets

Notes: The Soviet Government produced and disseminated aerial propaganda leaflets for Germans also under the name of a fictitious:

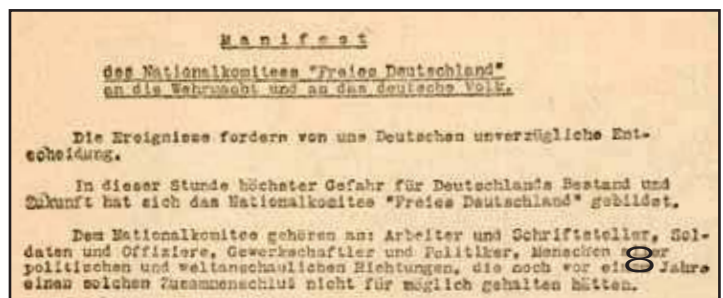

- “Nationalkomitee `Freies Deutschland`“ (NKFD), [National Committee “Free Germany”]. To make this camouflage more acceptable to conservative German officers the Imperial colours “Black-White-Red” were used on (most) leaflets to mark these special leaflets. “NKFD” leaflets were produced in three series:
Part of the “Soviet Central Series”;
“NKFD Soviet Central Series”;
“NKFD Army Group Series”.

Detailed information and reproduction of most NKFD leaflets can be studied in Kirchner: volume 15, #S1-2499, see below page 338.

Notes: After Germany's capitulation on 8th May, 1945 the Soviet Government and the Mongolian People's Republic declared war on Japan on 9th August 1945. Japanese forces in China, Sachalin and Korea were attacked. During this rapid advancement the Soviet-Union produced and disseminated aerial propaganda leaflets for Japanese troops and Chinese and Mongolian civilians. Translations in the English language are not available but for some leaflets printed translations in the Russian language can be provided. About 30 different types of leaflets are for sale, seven are illustrated below.
