Ellsworth Adhesives Europe to exhibit at Danish Electronics Show Elektronikmesse (E-18)

Ellsworth Adhesives Europe, leading distributor of adhesives, specialty chemicals and adhesive dispensing equipment, is pleased to confirm its attendance at the Elektronikmesse trade fair.

Taking place in the Odense Congress Centre from September 11th – 13th, E-18 is Denmark's biggest trade show for the electronics industry.

New for the 2018 edition of Elektronikmesse (E-18), is the partner event R-18 Robotics Technology. As robots are now becoming part of everyday life, R-18 focuses on the benefits of the technology and companies from varying industries will be showcasing examples how this innovative technology has strengthened their businesses.

The Ellsworth stand at E-18 will display multiple dispensing robots including the Fisnar F4200N.1 Desktop Dispensing Robot and F4303N Advance Vision System, alongside the impressive new F1300N Rotary Dispense Table launched in August 2018.

Further equipment demonstrations will take place for the Kakuhunter SK350T II Planetary mixer, designed to simultaneously mix and degas materials, and the Dymax BlueWave 200 a UV curing spot-lamp for light curing of adhesives, coatings and encapsulants.

In addition to the Fisnar robotics, Ellsworth Adhesives will showcase a range of materials designed for the electronics industry including sample materials for potting, encapsulating and thermal transfer. On day three of the fair, LORD Corporation Account Manager Mike Reynolds will join the team to share his expertise on the vendor's vast product catalogue of electronics materials.
